"As a man thinketh in his heart so is he." If he begins shortly after middle age to imagine himself growng old he will be old. To keep one's self from decrepitude is somewhat a matter of will power. The fates are kind to the man who hangs on to life with both hands. He who lets go will go. Death is slow only to tackle the tenacious. Ponce de Leon searched in the wrong place for the fountain of youth. It is in one's seif. One must keep one's self young inside So that while "the outer man perisheth the liner man is renewed day by day." When the human mind ceases to exert itself, when there is no longer an active interest in the affairs of this life, when and doing, the man, like a blasted tree begins to die at the top. You are as old as you think you are. Keep the harness on. Your job is not done.

It was probably at the close of the sixteenth century. Queen Elizabeth owned a large number watches. Mary Queen of Scots, was the possessor of a skull-shaped watch.
